PRESIDENT U.S. TROOPS RISK LIVES PASSES TO CROSS LINE

Taft Brands Distortion of Lincoln Day Speech on Popular Government 'Falsehood'

First Official Statement of Kind Issued by the Present Chief U. S. Executive

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—President Taft denied emphatically today that in a speech in New York on Lincoln's Birthday he said: "that the people are not fitted for self-government." In the first official statement of this kind that the White House has ever issued during the Taft administration, the president called the circulation of this story a falsehood.

The White House statement follows:

"Among the falsehoods that are now being assiduously circulated by persons and papers opposed to President Taft is that 'his Lincoln day speech' the President argued 'that the people are not fitted for self-government.' President Taft said nothing on the occasion which possibly could be tortured into any such construction."

"The speech in which the President made reference to popular government was delivered at the banquet of the State Bar Association in New York on the night of January 20. What he then said on this subject, and it was correctly quoted in the news papers on the following day, was this:

"Popular government we all believe in. There are those of us who do not believe all people are fitted for popular government. The fact is we know they are not. Some of us do not say so, but I do; and the question where a people is fitted for popular self-government so as to make that government best for the people is determined by the ability or majority of the people to place on itself the resultant burden which the minority shall receive justice from the majority. It is the question of self-imposed restraint that determines where a people is fit to govern itself."

DIRECTED AT ROOSEVELT.

While it is not admitted by anyone at the White House who has authority to speak for the President, that his correction of the interpretation placed by some people upon his New York speech was directed at Colonel Roosevelt, political leaders here believe such to be the case.

Many of President Taft's friends have asserted that Colonel Roosevelt had Taft in mind when in his Columbus speech he said:

"Any eminent lawyers, who more or less frankly disbelieve in our entire American system of government, for and of the people, violently antagonize this proposal. They believe, and sometimes assert, that the American people are not fitted for popular government, and that it is necessary to keep the judiciary independent."

U.S. TROOPS RISK LIVES TO FLY IN WIND

Government Is Determined to Prevent Repetition of Fatalities in Case of Battle

Soldiers Ordered to Border; Reports From Mexico Worry American Officials

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—American troops will cross the border line into Mexico whenever it shall become necessary to stop firing into American territory. In ordering additional troops to El Paso today to meet with the situation there in the event of an attack by revolutionists on the Mexican city of Juarez, the Washington government determined that there should be no repetition of the incidents of the Madero revolution when a number of Americans in El Paso and Douglas, Ariz., were killed by flying bullets from the opposing forces across the border.

PLAN MOBILIZATION.

The White House conference, it was said, discussed the advisability of another large mobilization of troops along the entire Mexican frontier to be prepared to act in an emergency.

Telegrams were sent to army posts throughout the country ordering the commandants to have their troops ready and supplies packed for immediate entraining. These messages were prepared, one to each garrison, more than a month ago, and the only thing necessary to do was to send the whole batch to a telegraph office. Troops practically have been resting on their arms for several weeks as a result of conditions below the international line.

The army war college completed plans for a new mobilization, and it will be only a matter of a few hours to have the troops on trains and ready for another "maneuver division."

Much activity was displayed at both the state and war departments. At the state department Acting Secretary Wilson, following his visit to the White House, was closeted with officials;

"Popular government we all believe in. There are those of us who do not believe all people are fitted for popular government. The fact is we know they are not. Some of us do not say so, but I do; and the question where a people is fitted for popular self-government so as to make that government best for the people is determined by the ability or majority of the people to place on itself the resultant burden which the minority shall receive justice from the majority. It is the question of self-imposed restraint that determines where a people is fit to govern itself."

Sunday Tribune's Worth Reflected in Features

There are a host of reasons why THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE is the best newspaper published in the west. There'd be no need to give them here but for the sake of emphasis. A glance through tomorrow's issue will be the best proof of the pudding.

THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE HAS THE GREATEST CIRCULATION OF ANY NEWSPAPER CIRCULATED IN ALAMEDA COUNTY.

And why? The answer's here: A corps of reporters and correspondents "cover" Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda and every city, town and hamlet in the surrounding territory for THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE, and there's not a line of news that gets by them. Then the International News Service, with its network of wires and scores of correspondents watch a busy world and report of its doings to THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE.

Here are other features: Suzette's snappy page of sidelights on local society; reports of the sport world; Lillian Russell's page of beauty talk illustrated in color; colored page that tells of fashion's latest dictates; three pages of pictured and written news from foreign sources gathered by world-famous experts of the International News Service; two pages of theatricals, commenting on persons and things on Oakland's stage; four pages of comics in colors, a delight for the "kids"; business and politics reviewed by students of both.

President Taft Confident of the Confirmation of Pitney by the Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—That there will be any serious opposition in the Senate to the confirmation of Chancellor Judge Pitney was associate justice of the Supreme Court of New Jersey from 1891 until 1908, when he became chancellor of that state. He is still a comparatively young man for so exalted a position as an associate justice of the federal Supreme Court, being but 54 years of age.

60 KILLED IN BOMBARDMENT; MANY WOUNDED

American Missionaries Escape Injury in Spite of the Damage Done to Buildings of Beirut by the Fire of Italian Guns

Mediterranean Port Is in Panic While Warships Shoot Into Streets; Italy Suffers Serious Defeat at the Hands of Turk and Arab Troops in Africa

DEPUTIES VOTE TO ANNEX TRIPOLI

BELFORT, Syria, Feb. 24.—Three Italian warships bombarded this city today, killing sixty persons. The American Protestant College, whose founder and president emeritus is the Rev. Dr. Daniel Bliss, is safe. None of the American institutions suffered injury. The professors, missionaries, students and employees are safe, although many of them were under fire while the heavy bombardment lasted.

Besides killing sixty inhabitants, the bursting shells wounded many others. The warships sank several small Turkish gunboats anchored in the port. Appearing suddenly off the port the commanders of the Italian gunboat Volturno and the armored cruiser Giuseppe Garibaldi sent to the authorities a peremptory demand for the surrender of the Turkish gunboats. Before the provincial government could answer his reply or ask for time to negotiate, the cruisers opened fire. In a short time the Turkish gunboats were disabled and in a sinking condition. The custom house was greatly damaged and other buildings also suffered. Persons who came within the zone of fire were slaughtered. A panic set in and the people fled toward the Lebanon Hills.

Important Business Lease Is Closed

When Capwell Moves, Charlton Company Will Take Part of Premises.

One of the largest business leases reported this year was closed today, and affects a portion of the store now occupied by the H. C. Capwell company, which is soon to move into the new Capwell building at Fourteenth and Clay streets.

A lease for five years, entailing a total rental of $93,000, has been obtained by E. P. Charlton & Co., a $100,000 corporation operating a popular dry-goods department store. The property covers a foot of Washington street, in the Blake block, and will be used for a store.

The entire building will be remodeled at a cost of $75,000 as soon as the Capwell company moves April 1.

The Washington street frontage of the structure, except from the stairway to the corner, is already leased. Negotiations are under way for the remainder and will probably be concluded at an early date.

Nothing but the walls of the building are to be utilized in the work of alteration, and when completed it will be a modern store and office blocks. Architect Walter J. Mathews has prepared plans for the remodeling. Two fast-running elevators are to be installed, to serve the eighty rooms on the upper floors.

The entrance to the building will be of white marble. Tenants have received notice to vacate by March 1, when reconstruction work will commence.

The Washington street frontage of the structure, except from the stairway to the corner, is already leased. Negotiations are under way for the remainder and will probably be concluded at an early date.

The American Presbyterian Mission has been active in Beirut for nearly a century. It possesses a church, a Sunday school, a girls' school and a printing office, where it publishes a weekly newspaper and a monthly magazine. Spread over the province are about 100 other schools connected with American missions.

The bombardment of Beirut by the Italians is the first sign of Italian naval activity in the Mediterranean for a long period and appears to be part of a plan of campaign recently announced. The property covers a foot of Washington street, in the Blake block, and will be used for a store.

The Seventh Day Adventist mission board has four missionaries in the country, while belonging to the Syrian Protestant College in the city of Beirut (an institution generally known as the American College), there are 750 students under the instruction of 50 professors, half of whom are American citizens.

CUBA FACES ANOTHER CRISIS

Trouble Over Failure of Law Barring Spanish Sympathizers From Office

Veterans Who Hold Positions Up in Arms Over Prospect of Being Displaced

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Another crisis in Cuban affairs apparently is at hand.

Reports from the island indicate that the unrest temporarily quieted by Secretary Knox's recent note of warning is about to break out anew as a result of the Cuban Supreme Court decision invalidating the law ousting office holders who were Spanish sympathizers during the revolution.

Initial execution of the court's decree would involve the reinstatement of a large number of displaced office holders and dismissal of the so-called veterans who were placed in their places, with the prospect leaders of the veterans association's failing to be an ugly humor and if they should attempt to resist the decree, serious trouble would ensue.

THREAT OF INTERVENTION.

The veterans, who are both numerous and powerful, abetted their demands for complete expulsion from government positions of all Spanish sympathizers, only under the pressure of the implied threat of American intervention contained in Secretary Knox's note informing the Gomez administration that the United States would insist on the maintenance of a Republican government in Cuba.

Developments are being awaited with keen interest in official circles here. It is believed that the situation will tax the resources of President Gomez to the utmost.

dependent of the majority or of all the people; that there must be no appeal to the people from the decision of court in any case; and that, therefore, the judges are to be established as sovereign rulers over the people. I take absolute issue with all those who hold such a position."

In the same connection, Colonel Roosevelt also said:

"If the American people are not fit for popular government and if they should not be the servants and not the masters of the men whom they themselves put in office, then Lincoln's work was wasted and the whole system of government upon which this great democratic republic rests is finished."

After speaking at length of "the position which these eminent lawyers take and applaud," Colonel Roosevelt said:

"The only tenable excuse for such a position is the frank avowal that the people lack sufficient intelligence and morality to fit them to govern themselves."

HOUSE WARMING COMES TO CLOSE

Dedication Week at Plymouth Center Is Completed Successfully.

With a house warming conducted under the direction of the societies of the church, the dedication week festivities of Plymouth Center, the new parish home of the Plymouth Congregational Church, were brought to a close last evening in the gymnasium of the building, Laurel street and Piedmont avenue. During the evening several hundred men, women and children passed through the new home, which was decorated in greens and flowers. All the apartments were fragrant with spring blossoms artistically arranged.

The young people were entertained by the members of the Christian Endeavor Society in the social hall. The guests were escorted through the building by the representatives of the Men's League and the Women's Club of Plymouth.

Miss Jessie Walker, in costume, sang a series of Indian songs. The musicians who contributed to the program were Miss Alberta Beramino, Miss Clara Lowenberg, Arthur Young, Miss Orrie Young and Twiss Smith. David Walker arranged the numbers.

SOPHOMORES WIN
CLASS REGATTA

University Second Year Class Outdistances Freshmen on Estuary.

Over a wind-blown water course for a distance of a mile and a quarter, the University of California Sophomore class crew of eight men in a racing shell carried off the honors in the interclass regatta held this morning on the estuary.

The first race was between the sophomores and the freshmen. The second year class won by a length in a hard-fought race. Their stroke, Stevens, at 35 at the highest with a steady pull, at from 32 to 33. Next, the juniors and seniors matched, with the results in favor of the juniors by a good three lengths.

The final was between the juniors and the sophomores, the latter winning by nearly six lengths with T. C. Hutton at the helm. The eight oarsmen of the winning sophomore team were:

L. P. Hunt, bow; W. H. Dunn, C. C. Brown, R. C. Shaw, L. W. Georgeon, R. S. Fuller, C. E. Donnan, captain; and M. A. Lee, stroke.

Charles Furlong, the well known Canadian oarsman and sculler, acted as judge at the finish, which was directly beneath the Park street bridge. At the start G. A. Davidson, former captain of the 1911 University of California crew, presided.

The start was at the wharf of the Alaska Packers Association on the south side of the estuary. No time was taken of the events, the winners being by distance ahead at the finish.

Only a small crowd gathered at the finish line to witness the races. The oarsmen cheered one another as they crossed the line. By their performance today the sophomores are declared champions of the university classes of the season. The freshman-made, a particularly good showing, finishing close to the sophomores in the preliminary race. The first event between the lower-classmen was the closest of the day.

The members of the other three class crews were as follows:

Seniors: J. S. Hobart, W. J. Kerr, F. P. Bailey, D. P. Hardy, Rey Maynard, W. H. Conlin, R. C. Ingram, Stephen Mataesta, captain; E. A. Fisher.

Juniors: F. S. Saifer, L. G. Thomas, F. A. Wilson, N. F. Farnham, E. K. Craig, O. W. Young, J. H. Nichols, Arthur Eaton, captain; L. T. Codman.

AGED BELLBOY HAD ESTATE OF $15,000

Three Additional Bank Books of Chris Kersopp Are Brought to Light.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—Search among the effects of Chris Kersopp, the aged former bellboy of the St. Francis, who died a few days ago at that hotel, for the keys to a safe deposit box in which he is supposed to be a will leaving his whole estate to Manager James Woods, has brought to light three additional bank books, showing deposits which bring the aggregate amount of his estate up to $15,000.

Chris Kersopp died a bank book was found in a person made out by the San Francisco Union Savings bank for $2045. He had boasted that he had a larger amount in gold in a safe deposit box and that he intended to leave the whole amount to his employer, Woods. The bank books found yesterday were of the German Savings and Hibernal banks of this city and the Greenwich Savings Bank of New York, and showed interest on deposits amounting to $15,000.

No trace has been found of the lost safe deposit box key, nor can it be ascertained in what bank the box was. So far no relatives have laid claim to the estate.

BERKELEYAN WITH $1422 IN GUTTER

Policeman Thought It Was No Place for Man With Coin and Jewelry.

Two Wild Cats to grace highbinder's banquet board.

Hard and cold stones of the gutter provided pillows for a man booked in the Oakland police station at 21st and E. M. Wright, attorney Berkeley for drunkenness," last night, but when Patrolman McTigue discovered that the sleeper had greathooks and loose change aggregating $1422 in his pockets, he was bound and scarf pin on his coat, he concluded that the gutter was not a fit place for the Berkeleyan. The man was removed to the central police station and the unbanked roll behind the bars of a prison cell, and the sum of currency was deposited for safer keeping in the vaults of the city.

The family of the prisoner was notified, and $8 bail was deposited that he might be removed to the county jail in the confines of Berkeley and his own home. The bail was forfeited this morning, as Wright apparently felt he owed the city that much for saving his money for him.

The members of the other three class crews were as follows:

Seniors: J. S. Hobart, W. J. Kerr, F. P. Bailey, D. P. Hardy, Rey Maynard, W. H. Conlin, R. C. Ingram, Stephen Mataesta, captain; E. A. Fisher.

He compelled the woman to take her youngest child along and a sheepdog, and, accompanied by the woman and baby and catch the bandit who has been torturing ranchers of the vicinity ever since his escape.

Gonzales appeared at the home of his wife before dawn. According to one of her children, she pointed a rifle at her and told her she must come away with him or he would kill her.

He had stolen a light wagon and when they had climbed into the wagon he returned to the house, took the baby out and threw it to his mother. Then he whipped up the horse and disappeared.

HELD FOR SLAYING BABIES

New York Nurse Said to Have Confessed Putting Acid in Milk of Eight

Declares She Sought Only to Revenge Herself on Rivals in Hospital

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Winifred Ankner was held without bail in a Brooklyn court on a charge of causing the death of eight babies at the Brooklyn Nursery and Infants' Hospital, where she was employed, by placing caustic acid in their milk. She will be given a formal examination Monday. Detectives who made the homicide charge against her allege that she has confessed the crime.

Without counsel, the young woman faced the magistrate and, disregarding the charge, pleaded only to have her baby restored to her.

"They told me at the hospital," she said, "that they would not take my baby away from me if I told all I knew. I did my part and now they have taken the baby away. I don't care what you do with me as long as you let me keep my baby."

She is only 24 years of age and has been an attendant in the hospital for the last ten months since her baby was born. Of recent years she is said to have lived a life of uncertain habits.

RELIEVE HER INSANE.

The detectives and the coroner do not believe the woman is in her right mind. One attendant said she would take her baby in her lap and mutter, "I'll give you a dose and I'll take a dose."

To the court's question asking her to plead to the charge and inquiring if she wanted a lawyer to defend her, she replied:

"I don't know what you mean. All I want is my baby."

She was taken temporarily to jail while the magistrate held a conference with the district attorney as to the advisability of restoring her baby to her. They were apprehensive that she might attempt to take the infant's life.

The attendant was charged with homicide, in connection with the deaths of eight infants at the hospital, which have occurred since Sunday. The woman had confessed the crime and put caustic acid in the babies' milk to kill them, but to make them ill so that it would appear that the nurses, against whom she had a grudge, were not taking proper care of the infants.

The woman's confession came after an examination in which she broke down when told that they would take her baby away from her if she did not tell the truth.

District Attorney Crosby of Brooklyn is to take measures today for the appointment of a commission to determine the sanity of the woman.

The scope of the grammar school

He was opposed by Director Harry G. Boyle, who declared the new manual training course to be installed in the school was "joker" and one of the means of robbing East Oakland of the new Manual Training and Commercial High School. Director John F. Jordan, official member of the board, voted against the measure with Boyle, but he did not give reasons for the objections. Five members of the board favored it. The resolution follows:

"Resolved, That provision be made for the introduction at an early date of manual training in all the branches; that the new addition be constructed with this end in view."

Calvin M. Orr, president of the board of education, said that the members of the Lafayette School Mothers' Club asked the board to defer action on the intention of high schools as the organization of many pupils cease when they complete the grammar school course.

"Resolved, That in case of death of the courses of study for the day elementary schools of California shall be eighteen years of instruction and the elementary schools established as the grammar school department may be granted three days' leave of absence with full pay."

A gang of boys, headed by Sam Cleary, started in pursuit and, when the thief saw he was hard pressed, he threw down the sack, warning his pursuers that he would shoot if they continued chasing him. These checks for small amounts were taken by the thief and have not yet been recovered. The thief is described as wearing a light brown suit and dark soft hat. He about 28 years old.

PAROLE LAW DEFENDED BY ATTORNEY TIREY L. FORD

Commends "Tribune" for Viewpoint and Declares Criticism Is Unjust

STATE BOARD OF PRISON DIRECTORS OF CALIFORNIA Directors—Dennis M. Duffy, President; Tirey L. Ford, W. R. Porter, Chas. Sonntag, Chas. L. Neumiller.

EDITOR TRIBUNE—Dear Sir: I want to thank you for your editorial in your issue of the 20th inst. entitled, "Don't Blame the Parole Law."

In the case of prisoner Cooper (or Chadwick) the State Board of Prison Directors did what they believed was the best thing to be done, both for Cooper and for society. Cooper was received at San Quentin on March 8, 1908, to serve a term of six years. At the April meeting of the board in 1910 his application for parole was presented, and although his parole was strongly urged by good people, among them Mrs. E. L. Strawbridge of Oakland, who agreed to employ him, the board could not see its way clear to grant the parole, and postponed the further hearing of the application for one year. At the end of the year—namely, at the April meeting of 1911 at San Quentin the board again considered Cooper's application for parole, which was again strongly urged by good and worthy people.

In view of the defendant's age, his conduct while in prison, his assurances of reform and the opportunity presented to him for immediate employment by Mrs. Strawbridge, and in view of the further fact that if this young man were to be saved, the time had arrived to make the attempt, the board concluded to try him for a short period of parole.

COOPER DIDN'T MAKE GOOD.

The board could not see its way clear to give him all of his remaining time upon parole, but made an order that he should be released upon parole, to be employed by Mrs. Strawbridge, when he should have six months left to serve.

These six months he was serving on parole, and his time would have expired on May 8th of the present year.

Cooper did not "make good." He deceived the board, betrayed his friends and gave evidence that he is beyond reform.

The board is sometimes misled, though the records will show that of the large number of paroles granted during the nineteen years in which the parole law has been in existence, 85% of the paroled prisoners have completed their terms without violating the terms of their parole, while 15% only have violated their parole. It should also be remembered in this connection that of the 15% who have violated, such violations consist usually in drinking, leaving place of employment without permission and the like, and that but a small number of such violations consist of the commission of new crimes.

The parole law as now administered is doing more good for the prisons, for the prisoners and for society than any other single phase of prison activity. Very truly yours,

TIREY L. FORD, Prison Director.

MANUAL TRAINING ORDER IS BRANDED 'A JOKER'

Plan to Put Course Into Fremont Curriculum Opposed by Director Boyle

Upon the recommendation of the high school committee of the Oakland board of education, manual training will be introduced in the John C. Fremont high school. This proposal, which was read just evening at the meeting of the directors in the city hall annex, Seventeenth and Broadway.

It was opposed by Director Harry G. Boyle, who declared the new manual training course to be installed in the school was "joker" and one of the means of robbing East Oakland of the new Manual Training and Commercial High School. Director John F. Jordan, official member of the board, voted against the measure with Boyle, but he did not give reasons for the objections. Five members of the board favored it.

ART SALE NOT YET CONFIRMED

Government to Await Hearing of Protests Against the Havens Purchase.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The recent sale for duty at San Francisco of the Russian art collection exhibited at St. Louis and said to be worth $100,000, will not be confirmed by Secretary MacVeagh until March 5 at least.

He postponed action in order to give those who are protesting against the sale of the collection to Frank C. Havens of the Havens Purchase.

A three-cornered fight for the pictures places they entered the United States under bond to 1907 had presented many problems for the customs officials. The treasury recently ordered the sale of the collection to secure the $10,000 duty.

According to Attorney A. G. Allen who filed the suit, the action is for slander. He declined to state what specific information of the defendant was the cause of the suit and refused to say where any proceeding looking toward the re-instatement of Hines in the Union League Club would be held.

SUSPECT A MAID IN HOTEL OF BEING JEWEL THIEF

San Francisco Police Have New Crew in the De Sabla Robbery.

SOCIETY WOMAN TELLS OF NIGHT INTRUDER

Girl in Room Awakens Guest; Manager Ridicules the Latest Theory.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—After several days of fruitless investigations in an effort to locate $47,000 worth of jewels stolen from the apartments of Mrs. Eugenie de Sabla at the Palace Hotel on Market Street last night, the local police have arrived at the conclusion that a clever crook aided by a confederate, perhaps an employee in the hotel, committed the crime. It is also thought that the thieves are concealed somewhere in this city until the activity and excitement wanes so that they can escape without being apprehended.

Manager Obadiah Rich of the Palace Hotel gives no credence to the deduction that the thief was aided by a confederate, perhaps an employee in the hotel, committed the crime. It is also thought that the thieves are concealed somewhere in this city until the activity and excitement wanes so that they can escape without being apprehended.

"When I took office as commissioner of public works I found that on November 15, 1911, a bond issue appropriating $2,000,000 for water front improvement had been passed. After considerable consultation by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Exchange and other representative bodies a plan of expenditure of this money was worked out, as follows:

"Our plan is, when the wall is completed, to have a roadway 150 feet wide running back from the wall with a line of railroad tracks on it. Then will come warehouses from 50 to 70 feet wide, behind which will be another line of tracks, followed by another roadway 150 feet wide and a narrow sidewalk on the north.

"In the work done by the Healy-Tibbitt Company on this part of the work we have a contract calling for the work to be completed in 250 working days from February 1st. We also require $150,000 per linear foot per month for the completed work.

"So you see how promising conditions are for our occupancy of the waterfront there in the very near future. The company is just about ready for action now, with the arrival today of new machinery, and we are much encouraged over the outlook.

APPRaiser SEEKS ADDITIONAL HELP

Investigation to Be Made of Office to Prove Merit of the Claim.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—An investigation of the office of the United States appraiser is being conducted by Special Agent Tidwell of the treasury department to ascertain whether or not two additional examiners of merchandise should be allowed.

At present the staff consists of 15 men. This is sufficient for ordinary business, but at times when there is a rush at the custom house and merchants are eager to have their shipments passed through the government building, more men are needed according to J. G. Martin.

The request for more men already has been approved by Collector of the Port Frederick S. Stratton and by Special Agent Bean.

In connection with Tidwell's work he is asking the different employees of the appraiser's office whether or not they have any outside business, the idea undoubtedly being to ascertain whether or not they are giving all of their time to the government.

Charles J. Evans, the examiner of merchandise, who went east recently in the case of the Mortimura Brothers, charged with the underhand methods used after the collection had designated Martin Nicholson to go in his stead, returned from the east yesterday and will resume his duties without any penalty being imposed, his action having been approved at Washington.

One Merlo Declares He Is Not Man Wanted in Italy for Murder.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Whether a man supposed to be Giuseppe Mancini shall spend the remainder of his life in a dungeon in Rome, Italy, rests on a decision of United States Commissioner Pooth here.

The man claims his rightful name is Merlo and says he is the victim of mistaken identity. The charge against him is murder, and he already has been convicted, in his absence, and sentenced to life imprisonment. The proceedings before the commissioner are to obtain his extradition.

VETERAN SONGSTER IS FEATURE OF CELEBRATION

Mrs. Margaret Blake Alverson, the veteran singer, was the guest of honor at combined Washington and Lincoln day celebration last evening by women of G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps. Following a banquet, attended by many of the Civil war veterans and their wives, a program was given, at which E. M. Gibson was the principal speaker.

Mrs. Alverson, who is 75 years old, and has sung for the veterans for many years, sang three songs, "Viva America," the "Irish Lullaby" and "Annie Laurie." She was cheered again and again, but was obliged to decline to respond to the insistent demands.

Mrs. Alverson is at work upon her new book, which deals with the musical history of the state during the last sixty years.

CLOVERDALE FAIR CLOSES TONIGHT

Great Precaution Taken in the Selection of Judges of Various Exhibits.

CLOVERDALE, Feb. 24.—It is not expected that the awards of prizes in connection with the twentieth annual Cloverdale citrus fair will be made before the closing hours this evening, owing to the failure of the directors to make arrangements for the appointment of unprejudiced judges earlier.

The judges were not named until today and this was done in such a manner that only one person knows who named them, and he is the only one who knows why they are.

The fact that the four handsome designs at the fair were entered or designed under the direction of directors or members of their families made it necessary that precaution should be taken that no undue influence might be charged by those whose exhibits did not take high rating.

The attendance this year is up to the usual standard and the fair is an unqualified success from all points of view. It will be closed tonight in a carnival of fun and frolic. Last evening there was a large attendance at the fair ball, an annual feature of the citrus fair, and all present pronounced it a delightful affair.

Progress in the School Department.

A considerable increase in the expense of conducting the Oakland School Department may be looked for as a result of the creation of four intermediate high (?) schools by the Board of Education. More schools mean more teachers, whatever may be said now. A regrading which adds a new group of schools to the system must inevitably increase the cost of maintenance.

We trust those who have instigated the proposed change have counted the cost—the taxpayers will have an opportunity to count it later on. When $30,000 or $40,000 additional is asked as a result of establishing these intermediate high schools the people will begin to realize that they are an expensive proposition. Whether their usefulness will justify the increased cost is a question we will not undertake to decide—the pudding will be proved when we chew the string.

When it comes to spending money the present Board of Education has expansive and somewhat efflorescent ideas. Apparently this board desires to radically alter the scheme of improvement that the old board projected, and the plans of alteration thus far suggested indicate an intention to utilize the proceeds of the school bond issue in a different manner than was contemplated when the bonds were voted. For instance, that bond issue did not contemplate the erection of intermediate high schools, or anything other than buildings for the primary and grammar schools, with any of the money voted. The course of study in these schools will be taken from the upper grades of the grammar schools and the lower grades of the high schools, which will make the intermediate grade neither fish, flesh or fowl so far as scholastic classification is concerned, but will afford a pretext for taking money voted for the grammar schools for a different purpose.

But this is an age of progress and the law does not seem to count for much with improvers to whom expense is no object. But when the cost bill is presented at the time another tax levy is to be made, we fancy there will be a few disagreeable remarks from the body of the taxpayers. All we have to deal with at present is assertions, but when the figures are put in evidence the confident assertions now being put forth will take on a different complexion.

"Jack Spratt could eat no fat,
His wife could eat no lean;
So, between them both
They licked the platter clean."

This bit of doggerel depicts the Bourbon situation in Oklahoma. Champ Clark and Woodrow Wilson divided the delegates, leaving not a crumb for Uncle Jud Harmon. They licked the platter clean.

Colonel Roosevelt went before a gathering of constitution-makers in Ohio and told them constitutional government was a failure.

The police may not catch "Sir" Harry Westwood Cooper this trip, but he is certain to get into jail before long. With all his cleverness this versatile crook can never keep out of prison very long. His record is a proof that crime is an unprofitable pursuit; moreover, it is trying on the nerves and fruitful of discomforts.

Again the Frost-Bitten Orange.

In some of the eastern papers we find disparaging comments about California oranges damaged by frost coming to market. One would suppose the orange-growers of this State had suffered enough from sending damaged fruit to market, but it seems that some people cannot resist the temptation to gain an illicit profit whenever an opportunity presents itself. It seems that a few unscrupulous independent shippers are queering the market for California oranges by shipping the frost-bitten product to eastern cities.

In a recent issue of the Houston Chronicle we find this significant statement regarding oranges shipped from California into Texas since the recent freeze:

"California oranges of the new crop lately received in Houston have undoubtedly been frozen on the trees. They are tasteless and valueless as oranges. The organized growers of California can be counted on to withhold oranges of this character from the market; they know they cannot afford to sell such fruit under the California label. But some of the independent growers have sent part of their crop east, and probably more will follow."

This tells its own story. While it accredits the orange-growers' association of wrongdoing in the matter, it all too plainly shows that this State is again being injured by methods which not only smack of dishonesty, but discredit California oranges in the eastern market. The orange-growers should blacklist every person engaged in this disreputable and suicidal business. Every grower should endeavor not to sell damaged fruit for others to put on the market. It is far better to feed frost-bitten oranges to the hogs, or destroy them even, than to let them go upon sale to the injury of the market for sound fruit. Every frost-bitten orange sent to market injures the orange-growing industry of the State. Drastic measures should be taken to prevent such damaged stuff from getting on the market.

The Fresno Republican accepts Roosevelt's Columbus speech as a declaration of his candidacy for President, which it is, but that is no reason why the erstwhile president of the California La Follette League should take up a column of editorial space explaining what the Colonel meant and did not mean. The explanation leaves the public as much in the dark as ever as to why it is all right to recall judges in California and Missouri, but a doubtful expedient in other States.

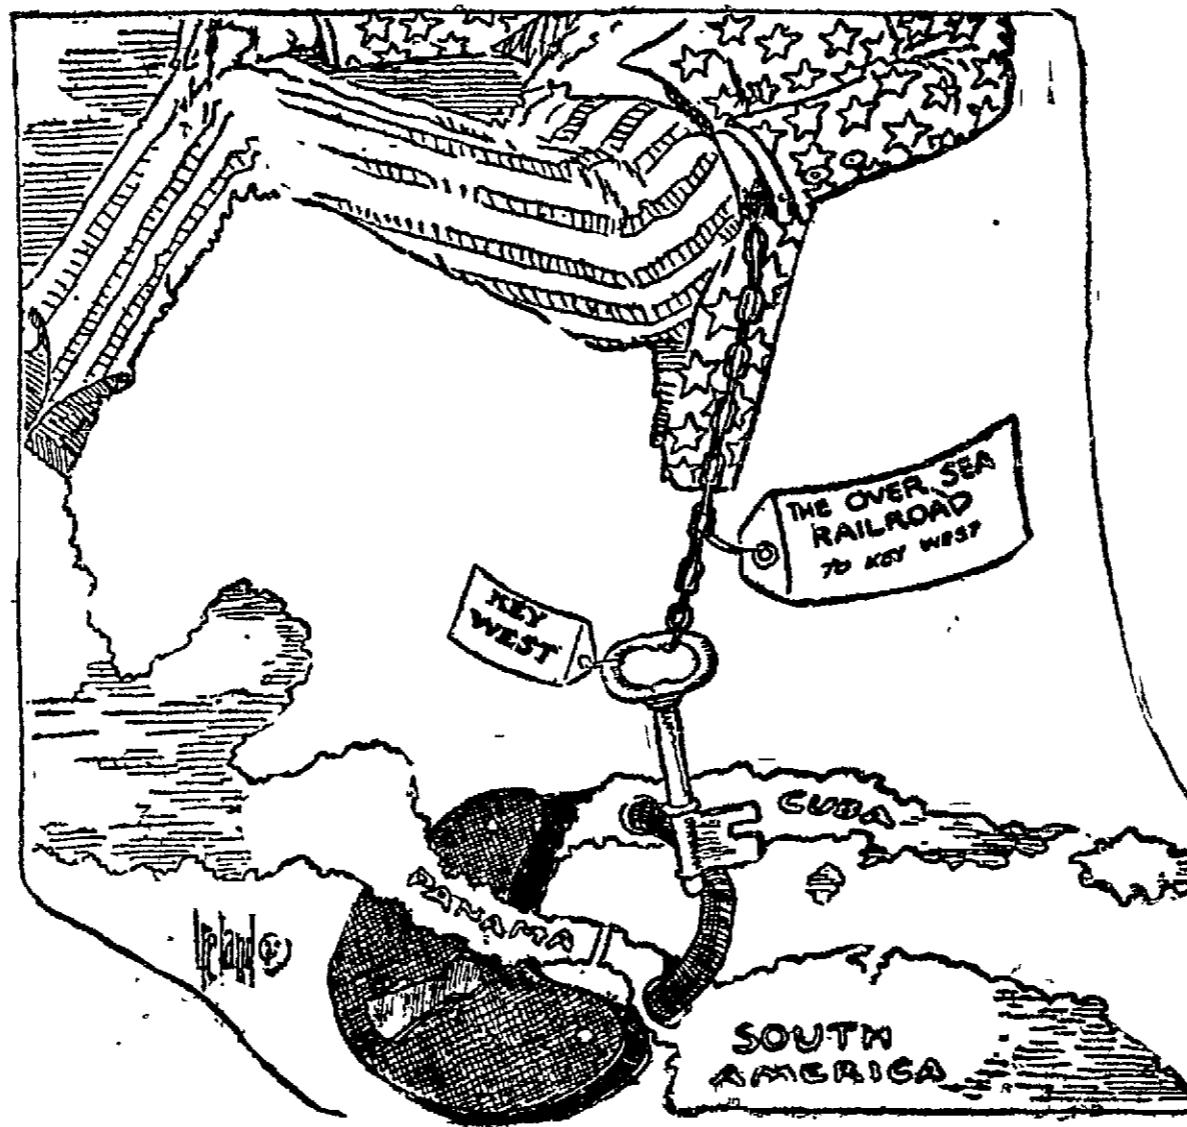

Attacking the Olive Industry.

Now the duty on olives is being attacked in Congress. After many years of effort involving the expenditure of much money, a flourishing olive industry has been built up in California. This industry is enabled to exist by the duty on imported olives and olive oil. This duty is not prohibitory as the continued importation of olives and olive oil proves, but it provides a considerable revenue for the government and keeps alive a substantial and useful industry.

That olives and olive oil imported from France, Spain and Italy are sold even in California in direct competition with the domestic product is proof that the tariff is not excessive. But it protects American producers, and hence there is an effort to cut it down so that foreigners will control our markets. However, the effort to deprive the olive-growers of protection is in keeping with the attempts to remove the duties on lemons, quicksilver, wool and sugar.

California's chief industries are under the fire of the Democrats and so-called Progressive Republicans, and the President who stands for the protection of California's industries is under constant fire from both these forces. The producers of this state are asked to contribute the baked meats for their own funeral.

HIS KEY CHAIN

—COLUMBUS DISPATCH.

Dr. Abbott's Consecutive Subterfuge.

Dr. Lyman Abbott is editor of the Outlook Magazine, of which Theodore Roosevelt is associate editor. Recently Dr. Abbott printed an editorial arguing that the Colonel only meant a third consecutive term when he announced on November 8, 1904, that he would "under no circumstances be a candidate for or accept a nomination for another term." If that editorial was printed without consulting Roosevelt, it was in exceeding bad taste. As Roosevelt has never made any protest against Dr. Abbott's view of the meaning he intended to convey in his announcement what he says must be taken as having Roosevelt's approval.

But the record does not bear out Dr. Abbott's interpretation. Here is Colonel Roosevelt's declaration as it was originally given on the evening of election day, November 8, 1904:

"On the 4th of March next I shall have served three and one-half years, and this three and one-half years constitute my first term. The wise custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance and not the form, and under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

There is not the faintest suggestion here that Roosevelt alluded to two consecutive terms; on the contrary, the language employed clearly denotes that he meant to convey the idea that no President should serve more than two terms. Every line of it refutes the sophistical interpretation Dr. Abbott has attempted to give a declaration made in such terms that no man can fail to understand it.

But Roosevelt made a subsequent statement which confirms the view that he intended to abandon all further pretensions to the Presidency. On December 11, 1907, he said (alluding to his announcement of November 8, 1904): "I have not changed and shall not change the decision thus announced."

Roosevelt cannot now become a candidate without violating not only the spirit, but the letter of the announcement he made in 1904. He must change his decision, also his estimate of "the wise custom which limits the President to two terms." Should he do so, Dr. Abbott cannot absolve him from the faith he pledged the American people. Let him strip his hat in the ring and strip himself to the buff if he feels so inclined, but the declaration he made in 1904 will stand against him and testify to his moral unreliability. If a President may take three terms under the interpretation given by Dr. Abbott, he may take half a dozen. He may choose his successor, as Roosevelt did in 1908, and take the office back again as soon as a single term has intervened. What becomes of the wise custom under this arrangement? How long will the form last after the substance is gone?

After lauding La Follette to the skies the holyrollers of the pie brigade are preparing to denounce him as a reactionary because he refuses to step aside for the Colonel. It is the consequence of being supported by an appetite destitute of conscience.

MANY PHYSICIANS PASS

During 1911, the deaths of 2146 physicians in the United States and the Dominion of Canada were noted. Reckoning on a conservative estimate of 140,000 physicians, this is equivalent to an annual death rate of 15.32 per 1000. For the nine previous years the death rates were as follows: 1910, 16.96; 1909, 16.26; 1908, 17.00; 1907, 16.61; 1906, 17.2; 1905, 16.38; 1904, 17.14; 1903, 13.73; and 1902, 14.74. The average annual mortality for the period from 1862 to 1911 inclusive was therefore 16.11 per 1000. The age at death varied from 23 to 99, with an average of 59 years, 10 months and 6 days. The general average age since 1904 is 59 years, 7 months and 3 days. The number of years of practice varied from 1 to 76, the average being 32 years, 10 months and 9 days. The general average for the past eight years is 31 years, 6 months and 23 days. The chief death causes in the order named were cerebral hemorrhage, heart disease, pneumonia, external causes and kidney disease.

Three hundred and forty-four died who had served in the Civil War, and of these 64 served under the Confederate flag, and 100 were medical officers of United States volunteers. There were 5 veterans of the Mexican war, 17 had served in the Spanish American war, one had been a surgeon in the early campaigns against Indians, 10 were members of medical corps of U.S.A. ISHI SHOWS PRIDE
IN ARROW-MAKING

Primitive Indian Learns New Points; to Give Demonstration Tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—Since last week, Ishi, the Deer Creek Indian, under observation here, has increased his repertory of arrowhead flaking by several new devices which he will include in tomorrow afternoon's demonstration at the Affiliated Colleges museum.

After his exhibition of last week it was shown him that while his flint points were pretty, they lacked notches by which they could be securely fastened to the head of the arrow. As soon as Ishi understood the criticism he seized his flaking tool and literally gouged two notches out of each specimen. The sure skill with which he crunched through the glass with which some of the points were tipped would have done credit to a glazier operating with a diamond, and proves the long practice behind his art.

Ishi became so interested in the pursuit when last Sunday's crowd of visitors watched him that he has spent the whole week turning out implements. Each day he has grown more ambitious and yesterday capped the climax with a beautiful symmetrical spearpoint six inches long, which, he at once graphically explained, was to be used not for hunting, but for stabbing people who were too obnoxious.

GETS $1060 LOOT WHILE FAMILY IS AT THEATER

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—While the family was at the theater last night, burglars entered the home of Mrs. Minnie Loigh, 1131 Jackson street, and stole jewelry and other valuables to the value of $1,060. The culprit was evidently familiar with the premises and had watched the family leave about 10 o'clock. When they returned at 11 they found that the rear door had been opened with a passkey and that a safe in the coat and ring and pins of considerable value had been taken. The entire house had been ransacked in the search for the valuables.

TRADE WITH ISLANDS DOUBLES IN TWO YEARS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—That the enforcement in August, 1909, of the tariff law by which all Philippine Islands products, except rice, are admitted free into the United States and United States products are admitted free into the Philippines, has been followed by a doubling of trade between this country and the islands, was announced by the commerce and labor department today.

Imports from the Philippines in 1909 were $2,243,344 and exports $9,911,107, as compared with imports of $2,212,017 in 1910 and exports of $20,928,752. In 1897 imports from the Philippines were only $2,221,181, and exports $69,459.

GOSSIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

A More Select Crowd

The crowd at the Mardi Gras was decidedly more select than last year. Every effort was made to exclude undesirables. There were policemen at the door to scan the faces of the would-be revelers who had to lift their masks for this official scrutiny before they gave up their red tickets. So the "babes dolls" and the "splash-me-ids" of a year ago were conspicuous by their absence. During the whole evening I noticed only one untoward incident. A party of four women were ordered to leave. They demurred at first, but when the Palace house detective repeated the order, giving them just five minutes to make their departure, they stood not upon the order of their going but went at once. This was done so quietly that few observed it. Of course everybody ragged, but not in unseemly fashion. Floor manager Charles De Young was constantly on the watch and when any dancers seemed to hover on the verge of rowdiness he gave them a good-natured word which restored their sedate equilibrium. There was a great deal of champagne consumed, but it only exhilarated and did not intoxicate. Really, we carry our liquor very well on these occasions. It is true that in the wee small hours a few of the gay boys were a bit unsteady, but they did nothing indecent. Probably this Mardi Gras has proved that it is not necessary to let down the bars to make a charity ball a success — Town Talk.

Everybody Ragged

"Everybody is ragging," laughed Mrs. Fred McNear as she swayed along the ball room on the arm of a Marsian prince. She was right. The remark was on everybody's tongue. Everybody ragged and everybody seemed surprised that everybody else should rag. Some ragged very well indeed. And some ragged very poorly. One wondered whether they had received the worth of their money from the teachers who have been inciting this tempestuous rage. This was particularly true of those who attempted the Texas Tommy. Those who did it well wore the exceptions. Jenny Crocker was one of these exceptions and Charlie De Young was another. They are mighty good at this difficult dance. But the efforts of others to perform it were ludicrous. They make it look like a very un dignified barn dance. The music, was a compromise. The syncopated measures which lend themselves most easily to ragging were not given too often. Most frequently the orchestra (which played in sets with scarcely any intermissions) started with a waltz and then changed to a rag-time two-step. I heard many people say that after all there was nothing like the waltz, which may or may not be significant. The formal dress temps was hardly over in evidence. People seem to have forgotten how to do it. Those who tried it soon found themselves attempting the rag, at times with deplorable results — Town Talk.

The Costumes Were Gorgeous

I think there was more variety in the costuming than there was last year. Most of those who had attended the Temptation Crocker Oriental ball wore the costumes which they had procured for that occasion, thus giving the unlinitiate a chance to observe how they looked at that exclusive function. Mrs. Templeton Crocker was Scheherazade again and very gay. Templeton Crocker blacked himself as before and was a very energetic colored prince. Jenny Crocker was once more Gihara, Princess of the Sea, her piquant form outlined by tight sashos. Peter and Walter Martin were Moorish princes. The Taylors, Will and Gus, were very amiable looking Turks, but their wives, like Mrs. McNear, honored the festivities with new costumes. Or were they old? Surely they were a bit reminiscent of the Portia masquerade ball of happy memory. The Tojin boys were very much in evidence. Big Joe didn't costume or mask, neither did Dick, our polo hero; but little Joe was a wondrous French chef while Ed was a Tommy Atkins of the Mulvaney type. Everybody admired Mrs. Andrew Welch's chantecler costume; she was the hen pheasant, I imagine. As for Mrs. Cagian, she was Mrs. Siddons and did the "tragic muse" all night long. She didn't dance—she can't think of Mrs. Siddons doing the rag, you know. Only ones who were severely dressed; that was when some too venturesome rolisters at a neighboring supper table threw serpentine at her. She was the real Siddons for a moment, filled with indignation, but the crisis passed without an outbreak — Town Talk.

Mrs. Welch Was Happy

It would be hard to name anybody at the ball who was happier than Mrs. Andrew Welch. But perhaps she only seemed happy. Tuesday morning I saw her at the dock bidding her husband a sad farewell. He was leaving for the Philippines. The way Mrs. Welch acted convinced me that like a dutiful wife she was dreadfully cut up over that parting. Her eyes were full of tears as she bade Andrew bon voyage. I thought that I should never see her smile again. But I was mistaken. At the ball that same evening there was no trace of tears in her sparkling eyes. She had the time of her life — Town Talk.

Girls of Long Ago

Backward, turn backward. O Time in your flight, and give us a maiden dressed proper and right. We are so weary of patches and rags. Marcella waves and big button hats. Wads of jute hair in a horrid pile, attached on their heads to the height of a mile. Something is wrong with the maidens, we fear; give us the girls we once knew of yore, whose curls didn't come from a hair-dressing store. Girls who dressed with a sensible tact, like the Queen Nature intended them to. Give us the girls with a desire here and there to show off. Give us the girls who are getting fatter each day, give us the girls as they used to be — The Wasp.

Glories of the Mardi Gras

The Mardi Gras ball has gone satirized into the land of Memory, and incidentally has raised the standard of such balls several notches at the point of selection. The costumes were so interesting and so bewitching that it will tax the composite imagination to go this ball better next year.

Moreover, the clouds that gathered over the rehearsal at the Palace the day before drifted away by night, and the merry masquers had no inkling that a shadow had been cast over the procession.

The rehearsal the day before found Mrs. Kohl ready for the queenly part, and Thornwell Mullally, with his bangs brushed like the Little Corporal's, and the ladies-in-waiting, court chamberlain, marshals of the emperor, court jester—and Edward M. Greenway.

They were all in their every-day clothes and their best dispositions—save Greenway, who was perplexed, bewildered, and had "hurt feelings" by the managers. The sweet and urbane pliability of the excellent Edward was disturbed, and he was obviously disgruntled. Foothills there was reason a-plenty.

In making up the line of march, the authorities on court precedence, Napoleonic etiquette and kinds of kings and queens decided that the court chamberlain should lead the royal party. The floor managers, including Charles De Young, Frank and Percy King and a dozen others, were present to assist in the rehearsal. Greenway had been asked to lead the grand march, and came to the rehearsal with a light heart. But when he discovered that he was not to march in the forefront of the kaleidoscopic grand entry of the court, the glooms swarmed over him like a mosquito pest.

There was Cadenasso, bland and naive as ever, with a temper as soft and feather as one of his eucalyptus trees, seen through a warm, soft mist. "You will start the thing off, Caddy," ordered the floor manager.

Biff! bang! What was that? "Twas just Greenway looking surprised. Small wonder! Ever since we have had any claim to Mardi Gras distinction, Greenway has been in the forefront of the pageantry. When the dowagers of today took silken shawls out of chests and wrapped them around their sinuous forms, and with flowers and fans went forth to pose as Carnes, Greenway has led the revelers. He has seen the pageantry grow from such simple devices to all the wonders and glories of the Orient with Salomes, and Turkish princesses, and Egyptian secesses, and cashmere deniers, and Arabian Night beauties, and the veils have not been more rounded with honor than Greenway is round.

Which may account for the stupidity of the committee in fancying that a Mardi Gras procession could be anything but mock terrain with Greenway of the house of Maryland left out! But the committee foolishly adopted the wrong stand in its preliminary plans. It tried to get people who would look the part. To the sure, Mrs. Kohl's blonde hair was an anachronism, but she looks every inch a blonde, and Mullally certainly looks several inches more an emperor than Napoleon. The ladies-in-waiting, Ernestine McNear, Florence Hopkins, Ethel Havemeyer, Louis Boyd, Fernanda Pratt, Gertrude Thomas and Agnes Tillman, look the part very prettily. Allan Dunn Courtney Ford, Roy Ryone and Randal Borough were chosen for their pulchritude, not their plies. Cadenasso, with his black eyes and waving locks, frosted with silver, made an ideal chamberlain, handsome and dignified, and when the order came for the chamberlain to lead off, "Caddy" put his best foot forward. Greenway was not to lead the royal procession.

Greenway was to bring up the rear, and after him might come all the mad, merry masquers whom he was to lead around and around the royal throne in march and gallopade.

It had been so ordered—but one of the managers saw the ghosts of other years rise in their graves at the picture of Greenway in the rear; saw the wraths of all the wonders and glories of the past wrap themselves like mists of ill-omen over such wanton disregard of precedence; saw Greenway himself look—well, shall we say piqued, or peev'd, or just good old Saxon mad?

And seeing these things, this diplomat hastened Cadenasso, court chamberlain, and ordered, begged and pleaded with Greenway to lead the royal procession, and Cadenasso, sunny and serene, cheerfully fell into second place.

So when the trumpet announced the coming of the royal party it was the gauntlet of a grand pascha that bulked the perspective, and then followed the imperial party. And only the seventh sons of seventh sons knew that at the rehearsal the day before the "genial Ned" with difficulty looked genial.—News Letter

Award of Prizes at the Mardi Gras

There could be no difference of opinion about the award at the Mardi Gras of the first prize to Gordon Tevis. Tevis made far and away the handsomest figure in the room. He is a stalwart, handsome chap of six feet, and is a commanding figure in his every-day garb, but in the white satin of an Indian prince with a red and gold turban, he looked like the bronzed prince of a fairy story come to life. There is always confusion of opinion about these awards, and save in Tevis' case, some of the masquers took goodnatured exception to the bestowal of the first prize upon Mrs. Frank Proctor of Oakland, and the prizes for oriental costumes upon Mrs. George McNear as a white rabbit and S. Japan as a Turk. However, there were so many candidates in the popular favor that it would have been impossible to get any decision that would have been unanimous. A great many people thought that the Oriental beauties were more striking than the empire girls which received the first prize. But there were a dozen different candidates in popular favor, Mr. Templeton Crocker, Mr. Fred McNear, Miss Jenny Crocker, Mrs. Will Taylor, Mrs. Washington Ames, Mrs. Lawrence Scott, Miss Marjorie Josephson and a dozen others.

It is a great source of pride to us for Tevis to be the winner of a contest which would have awarded the prize for beauty to the own favorite. Which only goes to show how beautiful

An Officer's Troubles

The tale of Captain J. D. Ream's financial troubles is calculated to set one thinking how many army officers manage to meet their financial obligations. Uncle Sam is as generous as most paymasters to his boys in time, but in Europe, where the profession of arms is a well-recruited one, the officers in a smart regiment are expected to have private incomes. Without such incomes it is impossible to keep up appearances.

It is much harder for an army officer, married or single, nowadays to exist upon his salary than it was twenty years ago.

At that time most of the service that officers sought was on the frontier, for the army was engrossed by the problem of eliminating the red man from the landscape.

About Opening Your Mail

There was a rumpus in the postoffice of "his city not long ago that ended in the removal from the mind of the rumpus-bearer's delusion that probably 99 out of 100 ordinary citizens share. The Kicker in question reported, with much indignation, that his mail had been opened, wanted to know if something cannot be done to punish the people guilty of ignoring the Federal postage stamp, asked if that stamp did not guarantee the sanctity of the letter in transit, and so on.

A Californian in Canada

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Connell of Cobalt have received cards announcing the arrival of little Miss Gwendolyn Patricia O'Connell on January 27, 1912, at their Canadian home. Mr. O'Connell is a Californian who has risen rapidly in the profession of mining engineer. It comes to him naturally, for his father was one of the early-day gold-seekers, and Charlie was hardly out of knee-pants when he, too, was looking for the auriferous metal around the creeks and diggings familiar to "Truthful James" and other celebrities made so by Bret Harte. Mining means more for Charlie O'Connell than just what you learn out of a book. He has been in Canada for several years, and has superintended the development of very valuable properties in the Cobalt district. He visited his old home last year with his bride who had been Miss Gwendolyn Beatrice Clemow, a Canadian girl of good family, and was welcomed cordially by his many friends in San Francisco. The news of little Miss Gwendolyn Patricia's arrival is a happy sequel to the honeymoon trip in California and a subject of congratulation. Mr. O'Connell is a brother of that very popular and clever dentist Dr. Robert E. O'Connell of San Francisco, and Dr. George O'Connell, also prominent in his profession and popular. James O'Connell, another brother, occupies a responsible position in the Post Office Department. His sister Eugenie married Captain Omar Humphreys, a prominent ship-owner and capitalist of Seattle, who has been spending the winter with his family in Southern California.—The Wasp

The Indian and the buffalo of the frontier post have disappeared, and most of the troops are concentrated in or close to big cities. This brings the officers more closely into touch with the social life and thereby increases their cost of living. The probable solution of the difficulty will be the enrollment of a larger proportion of the sons of prosperous people. As in Europe, a commission will confer a certain amount of social prestige upon the holder, and for that reason the army may attract a class that now seeks other outlets.

Captain Ream, whose load of debts incurred in the Philippines caused him to be court-martialed at Manila, and who leaped from the Presidio to avoid the consequences of debts incurred here, is a Kentuckian. He volunteered in the army of the Philippines at the breaking out of the war with Spain, and after two years' service was raised from the ranks and became second Lieutenant. In 1901 he became first Lieutenant in the 29th Infantry. He was transferred to the 26th Infantry in 1902, and to the 25th in 1906 and was promoted to a captaincy in 1907 and assigned to the 30th Infantry.—The Wasp

WORKERS LIVE IN DISMAL HOMES

Federal Report Tells of the Sad Condition of Cotton Mill Operatives.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—A dismal picture of life among southern cotton mill workers is painted in a report issued by the Federal Bureau of Labor.

With scanty food and poor clothing, according to the report, these people exist in crowded, company-owned houses looked down upon and ignored by other residents.

It is declared that while the whole family, men, women and children, work for a living, the table of the average householder offers in quality and quantity about what the government gives inmates of the Federal prison at Atlanta. The bureau said of these families it typified the condition of living found in Atlanta, Georgia, six just west of Greensboro, N. C., and five at Burlington, N. C. More than a hundred families were studied here, and in each the minimum standard of living was found, the report says. "It is so low that one would expect few families to live on it."

SEVERAL AID FAMILY SUPPORT.

The so-called normal family father, the wife and children depending upon him for support, was not found among the families examined. But the support of the poorest of these was supported by many cases of boarders were taken. The average number of wage earners per family was 4.6. In a family which five were employed, the earnings totaled between $300 and $500.

Pork, syrup, corn bread, and coffee continues the diet of the average family, the barest days. Only the most meager sum is spent for clothing, living and the higher demands largely in cast off garments of their daughters. The report concludes that most of the families usually end the year slightly in debt.

THE BLESSING OF MOTHERHOOD

Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and greatest desires; yet thousands of noble women through some degradations have been denied this blessing.

In many homes once children there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

San Antonio, Texas.—"To all women who desire to have children in their homes and to be well and happy I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from a displacement and other female weakness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was the only remedy that ever helped me, and now I am a happy mother and highly recommend your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. A. B. MARTINEZ, 121 S. Laredo St., San Antonio, Texas.

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"I was ailing all the time and did not know what the matter was. I wanted a baby but my health would not permit it. I was nervous, my side ached and I was all run down. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was good and took the medicine. I have now a beautiful baby and your Compound has helped me in every way."—Mrs. J. J. STEWART, 209 Hubbard St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

THE MEDIOLERS

WE Americans should want to bow down before English social conventions must forever remain a mystery to the thoughtful element of our own country. The contempt which the English people of the upper classes feel for Americans of the smart set is often only thinly veiled, and just as often very frankly expressed.

One of England's most fashionable writers expresses what are popular sentiments in the famous "Tatler," which goes to all the country homes, expressing himself in no uncertain fashion in the following paragraphs:

"Even if I were allowed to live a thoroughly non-moral, worldly life, I don't think I should ever choose America to go and live it in, even though existence is nothing if not rapid in the land of the Stars and Stripes. The Americans imagine that life means an eternal row, restlessness and racket; whereas, to be always doing something is always to be dead. To live life to its dregs is to live every emotion to its close. The Americans are always in the eternal state of being 'up and doing.' The dullest of them haven't an idea outside Wall street and the price of everything. New York was Europeanized long before it was Westernized. The old New Yorkers are like fish cut of water compared with the writers and artists of the great Middle West."

"What impresses you about their country is usually the amount of money there is in it and the scarcity of taste. It is a nation of intellectual, social and artistic snobs. Their greatest achievement is money, and it is from the monetary standpoint that everything and everybody must be judged. Men and women whose grandparents lived in log houses are ashamed to allude to the grandparents, the logs, or the West. The virtues which made the country as rich as it is, the powers that civilized and cultivated the backwoods and the Western prairies and made the wilderness blossom like the rose, these virtues are tabooed in the big Chicago and New York mansions."

And one reads further:

"Social life in New York seems to be one perpetual hunt for the latest craze, but this craze must, as a rule, be of foreign extraction. The Americans of New York are great patrons of the fashionable theaters and the fashionable churches. At the first they get English manners and Parisian fashions."

"The New Yorker in England brags about his city and his country, yet he is miserable unless he has some foreign importation to bow down to and worship. He is satisfied with nothing that is produced in his own country."

SEEING OURSELVES AS OTHERS SEE US.

"Oh, wad some power the giftie gie us,

To see ousels as others see us."

The "others" in this case happens to be the English, and while one may find in their outspoken comments much to laugh over, they yet furnish a good deal of food for thought.

We may softly say to ourselves that the little green-eyed god of jealousy perches high on the English banner; that our neighbors across the seas envy us our money and our great, big, widespread country. But there is truth that we are down on our knees in a sort of blind worship of what we call "the aristocracy." The compliment to the West, in the heart of the scorching comments on New York, is also deserved.

Here in the West our best people are not ashamed to speak of earlier life conditions. At Arbor Villa, in the shelter of the great mansion, is a lowly hut, furnished crudely, just as it used to be in the old days when F. M. Smith began his career as a lowly miner. Mrs. Easton, the grandmother of Templeton and Jennie Crocker, has written a most interesting book telling of early privations in the pioneer life of California.

The late Dr. Tucket wrote an interesting series of articles, depicting life as he saw it in the early 60s, and there are many people high up in the social ranks who could tell, as Bret Harte did, about "The Society Upon the Stanislaus." There are matrons among us who might well in the old days have been called "The 'My of Poverty Flat."

What a story that poem of "Poverty Flat" told, to be sure:

"Well, yes, if you saw us out drivin'
Each day in the park—four-in-hand;

If you saw poor, dear mamma comin'
Trivin'—"

To look supernaturally grand;
If you saw puppa's picture, as taken

MISS GRACE EWING, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cal Ewing of Vernon street.—Webster Photo.

By Brady, and tinted at that; You'd never suspect he sold bacon And flour at Poverty Flat."

Of course, there are funny stories that drift around our own smart set; one of the matron who bought the books for her library in color tones to match the carpet, and one remembers the daughter who would persist in saying to her mother who sat in the carriage, bolt upright, like a ramrod: "Loll, mother, loll!"

Mother never did loll. Life had been too strenuous in the old mining days. But, for the most part, the members of this, our far Western coast, are not ashamed of early days. One matron will tell you of lively times in the country town where she taught school. Another matron tells a thrilling story of how she drove an ox team, guiding the oxen which pulled "prairie schooners" across the plains.

Another matron grows eloquent when she tells the story of early mining days out in Nevada. How one wishes she would write the story of her life; how much more interesting it would be than half the romances of the present day. Out here in the Far West it is quite the fashion to speak of pioneer days and the brave things done in them by our forebears.

It was an Englishman who did the pioneer dinner given by the late T. L. Barker was an annual event and the centerpiece at the "Poverty Flat" article. Rev. Dr. Aked delivered the Washington's Birthday address, choosing as his subject "The English Story of the Pilgrim Fathers."

From our teachers and from our histories we have learned of the early New England days. Longfellow gave us a charming history in "The Courtship of Miles Standish." But no one has ever given us the prelude—the English story of the Pilgrims. Dr. Aked has all the charm of the gifted story-teller; he is wonderfully eloquent, and, indeed, a learned man.

He carried his audience straightway off to the days of Henry VIII, then on to the time of Henry VIII, with a superb analysis also of the characters of Mary and Elizabeth. Then we all went with the Pilgrims over to Holland, and finally we set sail with them in the Mayflower and the Speedwell. It was a remarkable lecture. People sat bolt upright, eagerly following the story. There was the bright play of wit, calling out the quick ripple of laughter, and there were spontaneous bursts of applause, suddenly checked lest one might miss the thread of the narrative.

DR. AKED DOES MUCH TO APPEASE WRATH.

MRS. WILLIAM T. VEITCH IS CARD HOSTESS.

Mrs. William T. Veitch was hostess at one of the most delightful card parties of the week, entertaining a large number of old friends in a charming, informal way. Her invitations were sent out over the telephone and old friends heard the cordial message: "Come yourself and bring your daughters." And they did. And what was meant to be a card afternoon for a few friends became a card gathering of nearly fifty guests, all representative of well-known families. The cordial spirit of the hostess was reflected in the guests, and the afternoon represented a gathering of old friends who have known each other many years and have enjoyed many happy social affairs together in the past. Beautiful growing azaleas were the artistic prizes, and bridge and auction were the games of the afternoon. The guests thoroughly appreciated Mrs. Veitch's efforts to give them an enjoyable afternoon, and her bridge party was one of the most successful affairs of the entire winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Veitch have been entertaining at their home on Walsworth avenue the McCrays of Cloverdale, who spent several days with them.

A number of Oakland people went to Cloverdale this week to attend the large citrus fair there, among Planned by Mrs. G. Erwin Brinckerhoff, who gave a very charming dinner in honor of Dr. Brinckerhoff.

The Brinckerhoffs are among the most prominent families on this side of the bay, Dr. Brinckerhoff being one of our most successful practicing physicians, active in the great world of medicine, and beloved in many homes.

The Brinckerhoffs last year took possession of their picturesque new home on El Cerrito avenue, Piedmont, to which Mrs. Brinckerhoff has given a most charming Indian name. The house was a lovely study in spring flowers, in honor of the doctor's birthday, and the table was an exquisite study in hyacinths, illes of the valley, daffodils. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. James A. Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. Murray Johnson, Mr. Eliot Johnson, Miss Ethel Johnson, Miss Charlotte Playter, Dr. Annette Buckel, Dr. Elmer Brinckerhoff, Miss Ethel Brinckerhoff, Mr. W. C. Barnard, Miss Lillian Barnard, and for Dr. and Mrs. G. Erwin Brinckerhoff.

The after-dinner program was delightfully planned, as Mrs. Brinckerhoff is a hostess of much tact and of charm of manner, and the birthday anniversary was a most enjoyable affair.

CARDS OUT FOR LARGE "AT HOME."

Mrs. Frank John Woodward has sent out cards for a large "at home," which she will give on Thursday, February 29, entertaining her friends at her home on Piedmont avenue, Berkeley.

Mrs. Woodward is giving the reception in honor of her sister, Mrs. Henry Martin, and of Miss Cutter, who are coming from the South to be her guests in her Berkeley home.

Mrs. Martin has many friends here, who knew her as the beautiful and talented Sylvia Chapman, the eldest daughter of Dr. Chapman, one of the leading lights of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Martin reads delightfully and sings exquisitely, and is a young matron of much personal charm. Many Oakland friends will be very glad of the opportunity of meeting Mrs. Martin again.

Mrs. Woodward has a most attractive home in which to entertain her friends, and she plans her social affairs with so much care, and they represent such an abounding hospitality, that many acceptances always ships there which she has always kept up, and she has been often a guest of Miss Elsie Schilling at her home on Jackson street.

The Volkmann home carried exceedingly attractive decorations, all suggestive of good St. Valentine—the time-honored "Saint of Hearts." One knew the spirit of "Valentine Day" was in the atmosphere, for there were strings of red hearts attractively arranged, and lovely flowers were also massed up in heart symbols.

The decorations also included a fine arrangement of American Beauty roses and there were beautiful fruit blossoms marking the early coming of spring. In the receiving party with Mrs. Volkmann and her daughter were the guest of honor, Mrs. William Volkmann, Mrs. M. W. Kales, Mrs. Thomas Knowles, Miss Rose Kales, Mrs. Harry Meek, Mrs. Stuart Hawley (Harriet Meek), Mrs. A. Schilling, Miss Elsie Schilling, Miss Beatrice Simpson, Miss Emily Johnson, Mrs. William Herman, Mrs. Kenneth McDonald, Mrs. Winfield Davis, Mrs. Dempster McKee, Mrs. Charles Bundschu, Mrs. A. H. who was Rudolph Schilling's classmate in the university, will be the best man. Only the relatives in both family circles and a few intimate friends will be guests at the wedding. The young people are planning to go abroad on their wedding journey, and on their return they will establish their permanent home across the bay.

Miss Hamilton is one of the most beautiful girls in the smart set across the bay and she will make a handsome bride, charming and statuesque.

MISS HARRIET STONE IS BUSY HOSTESS.

The social season is nearly at an end, and in looking back over the long line of young hostesses none seem to have entertained as extensively as Miss Harriet Stone.

Both of the Stone girls are very popular and their home this winter has been the scene of unbounded hospitality. There have been luncheons, dinners and suppers, at which many groups of young people have been made welcome, and Mrs. Stone has seemed to enjoy all the social whirl quite as much as her young daughters.

Miss Harriet Stone recently gave an interesting dinner at the Claremont Country Club in honor of Miss Sue Harrold, whose attendant she is to be at the latter's coming wedding. The table represented a charming spring study in hyacinths, maiden-hair ferns and daffodils, and, in addition, Miss Stone planned other lovely decorations for the clubrooms, which were gay with spring blossoms and ferns, prettily arranged.

Among those invited to meet Miss Harrold were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Farnum (Alice Albright), Miss Isabel McLaughlin, Miss Madeline Clay, Miss Marian Stone, Miss Marie Louise Tyson, Warren Harrold, Walter Rush, Jack Van Sicklen, Remi Knight, Frank Kales, Jack Neville, Albert Coogan.

Miss Harrold recently announced her bridal party. It will include Mrs. Frederick Farnum (Alice Albright) as matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Gladys Wilson, Harriet Stone, Emily Harrold, Marie McHenry. The maid of honor will be Miss Madeline Clay. Frank Kales, who will officiate as best man, will give a dinner in the near future in honor of Miss Harrold and Mr. Van Sicklen.

MISS ALICE GRIMES IS HONORED GUEST.

A very delightful afternoon was planned last Friday by the Misses Wilcox, who entertained in their home on the hill in honor of Miss Alice Grimes. Among their guests were Mrs. Welder, Mrs. Edison F. Adams, the Misses Farrier, Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Miss Florine Brown, Mrs. Everts. The Misses Wilcox, with the Misses Farrier, and Miss Grimes made a coterie of friends who have many enjoyable social dates together. Mrs. William G. Henshaw is the leading spirit of this group of friends, and they are all devoted to her. They will not soon forget the delightful summer she gave them all last year at Santa Barbara, when charming summer days were spent on the Santa Barbara beach or in picnics to picturesque places nearby. The home of the Henshaws in Santa Barbara is ideal and Mrs. Henshaw filled it with guests last summer.

Miss Grimes and Miss Farrier will go East next month meeting Mrs. Henshaw on her return from Europe. The Chickering and Miss Florence Henshaw are coming home with her, and the entire party will spend some weeks in the East before returning to California.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Miss Grace Ewing, whose picture appears in today's Meddler, is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cal Ewing of Vernon street. She is a popular member of the younger set.

Miss Helen Dabney is another member of local society. She is the daughter of the A. R. Dabneys of Webster street and takes an active part in the gayeties of the younger girls.

Mrs. Emilie Joullin is a daughter-in-law of Amadie Joullin, the well-known painter. She has a host of friends here.

Miss Violet Cook is considered one of the prettiest girls who takes part in many gayeties of the bay cities. She is a frequent hostess to many local belles.

MRS. W. S. HITCHCOCK ENTERTAINS DELIGHTFULLY.

Among the Hillsborough hostesses who entertain delightfully each season is Mrs. William Geer Hitchcock, who was formerly Miss Cassie Drum of this city. The Hitchcocks lived for some years in New York, and a few months ago established a fine home in Hillsborough, where Mrs. Hitchcock has many friends. Among her guests recently have been the Misses Glenn of this city. Mrs. Hitchcock is now president of the Francesca Club, one of the most exclusive clubs on the coast. She entertained there at luncheon last week, bridge following the luncheon, and among her guests were Mrs. George Newhall, Mrs. John Dunn, Mrs. Frederick McNear, Mrs. Max Rothschild, Mrs. Lawrence Scott, Mrs. P. E. Bowles, Mrs. Harry Poett and Miss Ethel Cooper.

MISS ANNA POSTON IS FETED BRIDE-ELECT.

Pretty Miss Anna Poston is to be married on March 7 to Mr. Frederick Goodchild of England, the wedding to take place at the home of her mother, Mrs. Helena Poston, on Orange street.

The Postons, who are very cultured, are to have a large number of friends—

CHILD-BRIDE TELLS HOW HUSBAND OF TEN DAYS SHOT SELF

Freeman Driven to Act When Poverty Stared Him in the Face.

SANTA CRUZ Feb 24.—With an 18-year-old bride of only ten days to support, no employment and only 25 cents cash to his name, the poor fellow that recent illness was bringing consumption upon him, 20-year-old George Freeman of San Francisco took his own life in the room where his pretty wife was sleeping.

Grief stricken the widowed mother, Mrs. Virginia Freeman sobbed out the story of her only son, a good boy, but despondent because of no means of support. The little bride who gave testimony seemed absolutely dazed, but tried to control herself to tell her story.

"George and I were married in Durango on the 12th of this month," she said. "We had some money then, but it all went quickly. Then I knew he had a pistol. He told me in San Francisco when he was going to buy it. He also said that when things got bad there was one way out of it."

"We did not have any conversation of that kind last night, and there was no reason for me to believe that he was going to commit suicide when he did. He had been nervous and worried recently."

"I was only partly awake last night when the shot was fired. All he said after he had shot himself was, 'Oh, my God, Christine, tell me, mother.' Then he laid still. We had an argument in the evening about his putting on the clothes which he had planned to take that night, which he did."

Mr. Freeman and his son, who is a brother-in-law from San Francisco excepting to locate if George could secure work. He was an electrician and an auto repairer. He did not try to get employment while here.

Christine Freeman, the widowed bride, will return to her home in Eureka, where her father, Eli Hackley, is proprietor of the Ocean House.

The tragedy happened only ten days after the marriage of the pair. They were both young and inexperienced.

They had no money when they married, their ignorance, they attempted to get married without a license.

The father of Miss Hackley pursued the couple to Shiloh, caught them and took them back to Eureka, where the marriage was solemnized in due form.

Hart in Runaway

Sausalito, Feb. 24.—Mrs. John Murphy, wife of the Sausalito city treasurer, was thrown from her buggy and dragged twenty yards beneath the overturned vehicle when her horse became frightened and started to run, carrying with it the companion of the brain and probably fatal injuries was buried to the Lane Hospital in San Francisco yesterday morning.

Mrs. James Doyle, a friend who was with her, was thrown out when the buggy overturned, fracturing her left ankle and suffering minor bruises about the body. Two small children, daughters respectively of the two women, were also thrown from the buggy, but escaped practically unharmed.

An unidentified soldier from Fort Baker who witnessed the accident saw the horse shy at a pile of rubbish in the street and turn suddenly, upsetting the buggy. The horses again to the horse's stand and holding desperately to the bridle, was dragged fifty yards, after the crazed animal had succeeded in freeing itself from the wreckage behind. Afterward the soldier slipped away in the crowd without telling his name.

Mrs. Murphy was picked up by police by Fred Lindsey and W. J. Boyd and carried to the office of Dr. A. R. W. Mayes, where Dr. Mayes and Dr. R. W. Williams attended her.

THE VALUE OF ONE'S APPEARANCE

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell)

O become indifferent to one's appearance is to lose ground in every way. An untidy man is a dreadful sight, but a slipshod woman is a great deal worse. Any woman who wishes can spare the time to make herself appear well groomed.

Before retiring be sure and bathe your face carefully. No one should go to bed with a soiled face. It is ruinous to the skin. Bathe the face with plenty of hot or warm water and soap, using a good complexion brush, and then rinse thoroughly with cold water and apply some good, soothing skin food. I shall be so glad to give all my readers who inclose an address, stamped envelope to me the recipe for the skin food which I have used for years.

Next morning when you awake dash some cold water on your face and then, before going out of doors, apply a bit of powder. Don't forget your hair at night, either. Brush it thoroughly. Never let any ragged wisps hang about your face. A manicure once a week will add to your self-respect, too.

The desire to be neat, graceful, attractive and dainty is no unworthy ambition, by any means. Such a desire will do much to get one on the path of the right kind of living. Cleanliness and good care of the body are stimulating habits and fit one for better work.

The business woman who goes about in dust spotted, unbrushed garments, whose hair is flying in the various winds of heaven, has no chance in the world to get a good position, for, no matter how fine her mind may be, or how far-reaching is her ability, no business man or woman wishes the office to be marred by the picture of an untidy woman.

Remember, many women have become tremendously improved by becoming interested in sane, hygienic, rational beautifying.

Answer to Queries

ADELAIDE—You failed to send the addressed envelope in your letter to me and I cannot send you the formula for the hair tonic until I get your address.

MARGARET L.—In your case I should think that a light morning meal is advisable. Some tart fruit, raw or stewed, two slices of toast, an egg boiled or poached, and a cup of well made coffee is an ideal breakfast, and may be eaten every day in the year without seeming monotonous. A little cereal, well cooked, may be added, or substituted for the eggs. Variety may be sought in the luncheon and dinner meal.

R.—I get the washing of the face with the hands is much better than any other way of doing it. I have a good recipe for a hand whitener which I shall be glad to tell you if you will send me an address stamped envelope.

OFFICE GIRL—Because you have no time or money for especially teaching or clubs for winter sports, you cannot exercise. There are day schools or club-work that systematic home exercise lacks. There is less danger of cold from overheating, followed by a cold ride or walk home. Less time need be spent, and if there is not the stimulus of companions there are greater possibilities of quick results in individual work. Do not get impatient. One cannot acquire a symphony-like shape or fine muscles in a week or two of them. It is possible by perseverance in the right movements to reduce superfluous flesh. More important and EVILYN J.—If you read this paper carefully you will find that my beauty hints will cover everything you need to beautify yourself. If you will send a stamped, addressed envelope and a request for it, I will mail a formula by which you can remove your troublesome blackheads.

R.—Certainly not, do not cut the wart off under any circumstances. This is a dangerous way of getting rid of such things. By irritating them you only make them worse. Have your druggist put up one dram salicylic acid and one ounce of colloidion. Apply this to the wart with a small brush, but be exceedingly careful not to get any of the mixture on the surrounding skin.

MISS VIVIAN L.—FISH AND ALFRED SCOTT

AVIATORS BUCK GALE IN THRILLING FLIGHTS

LATEST 'FISH' STORY IS EXPOSED

Kearney Fails to Get Rid of Wrapping Paper and the Grandstand Chortles.

Efforts to amuse the crowds at the third aviation meet with a large "fish" story succeeded yesterday beyond the fondest hopes of the promoters and managers of the exhibition. For several days Horace Kearney has been making fishing trips from his airplane over the bay and has returned from each trolling expedition with a flimsy denizen of the deep dangling from the yard arm of his biplane.

The expedition yesterday was no exception to the rule. The fish, allured by the sun as Kearney swept him over the heads of the throng to land at the aviation field, but in place of the usual chores an applause, a large and good-natured chuckle went up from the crowd, and spread, and turned to a roar of laughter. Caught in the wires of the biplane, back of the aviator and just out of his range of vision, was a large sheet of wrapping paper from the market, still bearing the wet stains left by the fingers of the sun as he flew back to the field.

There was no chance of further concealment, however, and the crowd joined in the fun. Kearney, who had played his part as per order, grinned rather sheepishly when the large sheet of wrapping paper which had concealed the trophy was pointed to him as he landed, and the next day he had done his part, leaving the field with the fish under his leather jacket, he flew out over the ocean. For some months ago, as the proceeds of the day were to be devoted to a benefit for the widow of the deceased aviator, but the big sheet of wrapping paper was still allowed to fly as a result.

The program had to be cut considerably yesterday on account of the heavy wind that was blowing. Lincoln Beachey, Phil Parmelee, Horace Kearney, Farnum T. Fish and Weldon B. Cooke, the old reliable guard at the aviation meet, performed as scheduled. This quintet of birdmen had assured the meet of real success, as they have never allowed the crowds to leave without giving splendid exhibitions of the art in the way of aeronautics.

UNUSUAL EVENTS.

The day had been set aside as one of the fun of the late Eugene Ely, the daring aviator who made his death at Macao, Ga., some months ago, as the proceeds of the day were to be devoted to a benefit for the widow of the deceased aviator. But the big north wind made it impossible to carry out several of the events planned, and the large sheet of wrapping paper was thrown away, destined for the deep, and Miss Blanche Scott, who preceded, and it was thought that she would be programmed to carry Mrs. Ely, was about to race the local

The day was not wanting in sensations, however, as Lincoln Beachey, the "bear cat or the air," as he was yesterday named by the crowd, was

M. C. JAMES SUGGESTED AS BUNKER'S SUCCESSORASSISTANT IS SLATED FOR
THE JOBAid to the Superintendent of Schools to Be Named for Position.The Petition for Recall Election
Soon to Have Sufficient Names.

BERKELEY. Feb. 24.—Practically enough signatures were assured by noon today to the petitions asking the recall of Councilman John A. Wilson and School Directors H. L. Stern and Mrs. Elmer Carlile to make it mandatory on the council to call the election. The proponents of the recall intend waiting, however, until the number of signers is well beyond question. As only a few of the verification deputies appointed yesterday have so far returned their petitions, it is expected this number will be easily secured by Tuesday, when the council meets.

Partly to forestall any possible attempt to remove School Superintendent F. E. Bunker at present and partly to make the recall election come well ahead of the presidential primaries, it is likely there will be no delay beyond Tuesday, or next week at the latest.

MAY NAME SUCCESSOR.

The report was general today that the majority members of the school board, against whom the recall is invoked, planned the removal of Bunker before they left office, even if an election for their removal was called. The law provides that they may elect a new superintendent at any time before the contract of a present superintendent expires, though the new man would not take office until such contract was at an end. Whether their election of a new man could be hurried by a new board, in case they were beaten at a recall election, has never been decided.

The circumstances of this report that Bunker is to be dropped that it even carries the name of the man who has been asked to be his successor, Morris C. James, was formerly principal of the Berkeley High school, which position he resigned when he was made assistant superintendent and secretary of the school board. He has been in touch with the schools for many years, both as teacher and principal.

FURTHER COMPLICATIONS.

The departure of School Director William Caesar Morgan for Europe in May, at the close of the university semester, is expected further to complicate the situation. In case but one of the Socialist majority of the school board is recalled there will be a deadlock when Morgan's temporary successor is named by his fellow members. In such case Bunker's incumbency would be almost as shaky as it is now.

WILSON'S STATEMENT.

Mrs. J. Stitt Wilson this afternoon issued a statement that he would enter the rights behalf of the majority of members of the school board. He bases his decision on the fact that Councilman Wilson was elected to support the mayor and that Wilson is now attacked. The mayor criticizes Superintendent Bunker for carrying his case to the people. He declares that whether he wins or loses he will have placed himself in a bad light with the people of Berkeley. This mayor says:

"I have treated my opponents with the kindest and most generous courtesy. But I am not going to submit to this broad attack on the city council and our administration of civic affairs in order to permit an appointee of this city to succeed him and retain his position."

The majority members of the school board issued a statement this afternoon confirming the report that they intended to support M. C. James to Bunker's position. They admit that they do not know whether James will accept, but stress if he refuses they will seek another man of his type and experience.

Lillian Carlsen Married
Last November.

BERKELEY, Feb. 24.—In a pretty little home in Emeryville this week are domiciled Dan Alden, an Emeryville butcher, and his bride, who was formerly Miss Lillian Carlsen, chief operator at the Berkeley telephone exchange.

Until recently, when the young couple showed their marriage certificate to Mrs. Carlsen, the parents of the young lady had known nothing of the wedding. It was a runaway match to San Rafael last November, but the young couple chiefly concerned kept it strictly a secret until yesterday. The bride is well known in this city, while the groom is a member of a butcher firm at Stockyards.

St. Mary's and Santa Clara Will Battle for Basketball Championship This Evening

THREE INTERESTING BOUTS SCHEDULED FOR FIGHT FANS

Frayne and Burns to Open Carnival of Ring Engagements Around the Bay; Dillon and Coffey Are Next

COMING EVENTS IN RING CIRCLES.

Thursday, February 29th, at West Oakland Club—Johnny Frayne vs. Frankie Burns, ten rounds.

Wednesday, March 6th, at Oakland Wheelmen—Jack Dillon vs. Walter Coffey, ten rounds.

Saturday, March 9th, at Daly City, San Mateo County—Abe Attell vs. Tommy Murphy, twenty rounds.

With Johnny Frayne and Frankie Burns both hard at the grind of conditioning themselves for next Thursday evening's boxing contest, Jack Dillon and Walter Coffey signed up by the Oakland Wheelmen and Jimmy Coffey willing to stage Abe Attell and Harlem Tommy Murphy, affairs in the way of cuff and getaway are booming in the far, far west.

The two principals of the West Oakland Athletic club show put in a strenuous day of it yesterday. Johnny Frayne is out at Al White's and his manner of training is pleasing to every fan who has been there the last week. The "Rapid Fire" boy realized that he is going against a game, tough boy and he also understands that there is no love between the two. Burns gathered a half-line decision that time, but many of the fans were inclined toward the colored boy and it was their clamoring to see the boys in action again that caused Dillon to sign them up.

The other six round bout brings Willie O'Neill and Tommy McFarland together and these two being of the tearing in sort of mullers should furnish plenty of excitement while it lasts.

DILLON IS COMING.

Matchmaker Morris of the Oakland Wheelmen, who recently received word that Jack Dillon had taken up his transportation, and that he would leave Columbus, Ohio, on Monday morning for Oakland, to keep his 10-round engagement with Walter Coffey on the 6th of March.

This mull should prove a highly interesting one, for Jimmy Coffey has promised the winner a battle with Frank Kauer over the 20-round date. Dillon should be on hand by Friday, and, as he is always in shape, he will have little trouble rounding to form. He will take up his training quarters at Miller's Gymnasium, which is opposite the gate at one of the gyms over the bay, already rounding to form for the bout.

ATTELL AND MURPHY TO BOX.

Abe Attell wired Jim Coffey last night not to call off his match with Harlem Tommy Murphy on March 9th, and that again he would be in the ring. Coffey is asking for the chance to show that he isn't all in, out and down. When Jim Buckley was spoken to about the matter he simply told Coffey that he was not matchmaker, and that whatever he did, Buckley, so the bout will prove about as torrid as any affair as has been staged in Oakland for many moons.

PRELIMINARIES LOOK GOOD.

Backing up the main event, Manager Hirschfeld has signed up some boys to help him with the fans with entertainment. As a curtain raiser "Race Horse" Munro and Willie Campi will box four rounds. Next will come Young Papke and Frank Romo in a contest round. All are behind the movement and a permit will be applied for on Monday.

The match starts the first time that the Catholic college fives have been called to resort to a third contest to determine the champion.

Fans are anxiously waiting for the orchestra to start.

HOT WATER OF GULF KILLS THE FISHES

GALVESTON, Texas, Feb. 24.—The oil shipment Luckenbach and other ships report having run into a hot-water sea in the Gulf of Mexico, 220 miles southeast of Louisiana coast, Feb. 8.

Thousands of dead fish led to an investigation, and the gallots were surprised to find the water hot, with a rough sea running. The temperature of the water varied from almost boiling to lake, warm, and covered an area more than a half a mile long.

Shamen say they never experienced such phenomena in the gulf and attributed it to some subterranean explosion or discharge from the bottom of the sea.

The Washington club will stop at a furnished room house at Charlotteville, Va., and a minister's wife will cook the meals. Gee, if those meals do not suit it will be no place for minister's wife or for me.

It was reported from New York last night that the local Barber, Kelly, had made a speech to the Toronto club for the benefit of the Timmins miners, who are in financial difficulties.

Kelly, a man of 50, was prominently featured in the news papers.

When Mr. Bryan appears before the money trust committee, it might be well for them to seize the opportunity to get a little information on the price of automobiles and prices bolls.

CHICKENS TO BE HATCHED BY GAS

Company to Lay Its Pipes to Poultry Ranches Near Hayward.

HAYWARD, Feb. 24.—Gas mains are to be laid in every direction by the public works division of Hayward by the Pacific Gas and Electric company for use by poultry ranches in their incubators and brooding pens. Representatives of the corporation were here yesterday making an inspection of local conditions. The company intends installing a system like the one at Petaluma, where more than 8000 connections are in use on poultry ranches. The growing proportions of the Hayward poultry industry is such that the company feels justified in making the necessary outlay.

WALL STREET HAS UNEVENTFUL WEEKTrade Declines to Small Volume and All Prices Weaken.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Almost the only striking feature of the week in the stock market was the continued dullness, trading deadlocked to the smallest degree, with little or no change shown by foreign markets. This was attended by a steady sagging of prices, in no instance severe, but sufficiently perceptible to impress the market, which called attention to the lack of public interest.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—John J. Marble, formerly of San Francisco, chief of the division of prosecutions of the Interstate Commerce Commission, has been appointed secretary of the commission to succeed Edward A. Moseley, who died last April.

Marble has been detached from the commission for several months, acting as one of the attorneys for the Senate committee investigating the election of Senator Lorimer.

Marble is the commission's second secretary. Prior to his connection with the commission he was a newspaperman on the Pacific coast, and was brought to Washington by Commissioner Lane, a Californian.

Although he was selected last June, announcement of Mr. Marble's appointment was withheld until today. In addition to his duties as secretary, he will be the commission's legal adviser. He has been active in the commission's cases, particularly its criminal prosecutions.

LOVE LETTERS TORN UP BY HEARTLESS JUDGE

SAN JOSE, Feb. 24.—The love letters of Edward F. Dardan to Miss Agnes Hill, which were placed in the possession of Chief of Police G. S. Kidder Wednesday by the girl's mother, who feared that the young real estate agent would break into her home in his efforts to recover them, were torn up yesterday during a stormy session in the private chambers of Police Judge Dougherty in the presence of the young couple and the girl's mother.

As the rouser cracked in the flingers of the judge, Miss Hill broke down and sobbed in utter abandon and upbraided her mother for her interference in her romance. Mrs. Hill also seemed to think that she had been a little too hasty in causing Dardan's arrest. Her attitude had altered and she seemed willing that the courtship should continue.

Dardan, glad that the charge against him had been dismissed, seemed anxious to shake the dust of San Jose from his shoes and return to Urban.

SANTA CLARA TO CELEBRATE IN JUNE

College Will Be 61 Years Old,
Being Founded on March 19, 1851.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 24.—The alumni and patrons of Santa Clara College are to meet in San Francisco to near future and arrange for the celebration of the sixty-first anniversary of the founding of Santa Clara College. According to present plans, the jubilee will be held during the latter part of June, although the college was actually founded on March 19, 1851. No definite plans for the celebration have been made as yet, except that the celebration of the completion of the Administration building and Senior Hall, the first new buildings to be finished, a comprehensive plan of building to cost in the neighborhood of $2,000,000, will be held the same time.

Through the foresight of the town trustees of Santa Clara, the college was recently provided with two city streets which divided the property already owned, and the room for expansion, for which it was formerly believed the college would go to Mountain View, was thus procured. The first of the new buildings to be started was the Administration building, and it is now all but finished, the contractors having been at work today putting the final touches on the exterior. The three-story, reinforced concrete building, absolutely fireproof, and will be followed by a Senior Hall, which will cost practically the same amount of money and will be a duplicate so far as material and workmanship are concerned.

FOUNDED IN 1851.

Santa Clara College was founded in March, 1851, with a fund of but $150, $100 of which had been given as charity offerings and $50 contributed by the then Bishop Alemany. The founder was Rev. John Nobilis, who took over the parish of the Franciscans, who established Santa Clara mission, now part of the college site in 1777. The Franciscan order had just been secularized and the parish was given up, being offered to Father Nobilis of the Jesuits. Four years after the founding of the school, Father Nobilis presented sum of money to purchase an old hotel for $2500. This was the first expansion of the college, but the need of it was so great that during its early years it was overwhelmed with pupils.

Along with the exterior expansion of the college, which will be celebrated in June, the faculty will have much to be proud of in its scholarship broadening. This year a freshman class in engineering was organized, and the other three years of that course will be added as the students finish the term's work. Other changes in the curriculum will give the college practically a university standing by the time the new building plan has been worked out.

SAFE BLOWERS SECURE JEWELS

Another Robbery in Maiden Lane District Alarms New York Merchants.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Maiden Lane jewelry district is in alarm despite the announcement of another diamond robbery which occurred yesterday in the heart of that supposedly burglar-proof section. Despite the watchfulness of the police and private detectives, the robbers gained entrance to the vaults at 49 Maiden Lane and stole gems valued at $14,000 from Emanuel S. Rose, wholesale jeweler.

The burglars worked quickly and skillfully. They were compelled to use an explosive in getting into the safe, but no one heard the explosion.

ROYAL ARCANIUM GETS $5,902,100

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—Judge Braly of the Supreme Judicial Court has ordered the state treasurer to turn over to the Royal Arcanum $5,902,100 in securities deposited by the state.

The order was made under a law enacted by the Legislature of 1911, which allows fraternal organizations to recover funds which formerly they were required to deposit with the state.

DINNER SERVED AT 15 CENTS PER

Chicago Church Women Show One Way of Combatting High Prices.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—To show that frugal housewives can do battle with the apparent high cost of living, Southside church women gave a dinner last night at a cost of 15 cents a plate. They figured their profits at 35 per cent.

The menu consisted of bacon, bouillon, roast lamb, brown gravy, potatoes, yellow turnips, biscuits, baked apples and coffee. Many prominent persons were present and pronounced the meal wholesome.

By way of comparison, the same menu with the prices of a leading hotel was attached to one served by the women. One would pay $3 for the hotel dinner.

Covers were laid at the dinner for 150 persons. The total cost was $74.60.

"LOONEY NOW" CHALONER DELIGHTED HE LOST

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Judge Holt, in the Federal court, yesterday, in accordance with the ruling made in the injunction instituted by John Armstrong Chaloner against Thomas T. Sherman, his committee of estate, for an accounting, directed the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendant. This was done.

Upon learning that the suit had been dismissed by Judge Holt, Chaloner sent this telegram to his counsel:

Delighted! Appeal is necessary. The greater the delay, the greater the cost, the greater the outrage, the greater the object lesson to the public concerning need of reforming laundry legislation. I have been a martyr so long to ignorant judges and unjust laws that I am getting used to it. Assure my brilliant and learned counsel of my commendation on the coming of the case.

RUNAWAY COUPLE PARTED BY PARENT

Father of Young Ponton Takes Son Home; Girl Is in Oakland.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 24.—Frank S. Ponton, secretary of the California Hospital association of San Francisco, arrived here yesterday in search of his 18-year-old son, Raymond, who took his father's machine from the Sunset garage in San Francisco Thursday night and came to this city in company with a young woman.

After night in a prison cell the youth wasullen and defiant and emphatically refused to reveal the identity of the girl in the case or make promises of any kind in regard to his future conduct. After the interview had closed Ponton said that until there had been a family conference he could not say just what action would be taken, but he was satisfied that he could do nothing with the lad and would probably turn him over to the juvenile court in San Francisco.

The police located the girl in the case at the Bristol hotel in Second street, where she and Ponton had obtained apartments, and she was brought to the police station for a conference with her father. Ponton said she stated her name was Miss Alice Colburn, and said that she had a brother in Fresno, but no relatives in San Francisco. It is believed, however, that this name is fictitious.

The girl said that she met young Ponton at a dance, and that they came here to be married; that Ponton told her that he was 21 years of age and that he owned the machine, and she believed him. She was willing to promise to return to her brother in Fresno and not to see the young man any more.

Ponton was taken back to San Francisco in his father's machine, and the oldster left on an afternoon train for Oakland. It developed that the elopement of the couple was discovered last night by the young man's father and that he pursued them in a second machine, a racing car capable of covering 70 miles an hour. The runaways would have been overtaken, but the pursuing car took the wrong road.

GIVES DETAILS OF MEAT COMBINE

Edward Tilden Testifies at the Trial of Twelve Chicago Packers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Further details of the manner in which Edward Tilden, president of the National Packing company, obtained control of the New York Butchers Dressed Beef company, in 1907, were told today by Frederick Joseph at the trial of the ten Chicago meat packers charged with maintaining a combination in restraint of trade.

Joseph will be followed on the stand by his son, Moses H. Joseph, who assisted his father in the negotiations which resulted in the purchase of the New York concern.

SAW YOUNG LOUNSBERY LEAP IN FRONT OF TRAIN

NEW ROCHELLE, Feb. 24.—That James Ben Ali Huggin Lounsbery, the son of the late Richard P. Lounsbery, the millionaire, and a grandson of James B. Haggins, the noted horseman of California, committed suicide by stabbing in front of an express train on the New York New Haven & Hartford railroad at Larchmont last Saturday night, was borne out yesterday by two young women who witnessed the tragedy.

Coroner Livingston held an inquest.

Misses S. and G. Loonsberg, of Lillian Wayman, testified that they were the only ones on the station platform at the time young Lounsbery killed himself.

"I saw a young man walking about the station," said Miss Schivers. "He seemed to be dazed. It was about 8:40 when I heard the rumble of an express train coming. The young man took off his fur coat and threw it on the westbound local track. Then he climbed the fence, faced the oncoming train and waited for it to strike him."

AERIAL FIRE TRUCK FALLS WITH FIREMEN

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 24.—An aerial fire truck that was being tested here yesterday was blown over at Fifth and L streets by the heavy north wind just as Fireman Richard Pendergast and S. Sollander had mounted the platform to ascend the ladder. They were thrown, but were not injured by the fall. Another fireman named Clark, however, was struck by the crank of the machine while it was being righted and was thought at first to have been killed. He revived, however, and was said to have sustained nothing more serious than a bad scalp wound. A rubber pad on the crank prevented it crushing his skull. Experts say the ladder was being up at too great an angle for safety in the heavy wind.

The charge on which the board of managers of the club this afternoon voted the expulsion, according to a report, was that he had violated the provision of the constitution of the club which sets forth a code of ethics.

From the viewpoint of the club one of the most serious charges made was that through Hines' undesirable publicity had been given to the club because of propositions said to have been made to Clarence S. Funk of the International Harvester company by Hines in the club-house.

Upon learning that the suit had been dismissed by Judge Holt, Chaloner sent this telegram to his counsel:

HINES FEELS BOOT OF UNION LEAGUERS

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 24.—Edward Hines, the millionaire lumber man, was expelled from the Union League club yesterday as the result of his connection with the Lorain case. Hines is said to have boasted that he "put Senator William Lorain over."

The charge on which the board of managers of the club this afternoon voted the expulsion, according to a report, was that he had violated the provision of the constitution of the club which sets forth a code of ethics.

From the viewpoint of the club one of the most serious charges made was that through Hines' undesirable publicity had been given to the club because of propositions said to have been made to Clarence S. Funk of the International Harvester company by Hines in the club-house.
